CHUS BURÉS: A DIALOGUE BETWEEN ART AND DESIGN

Introducing The New Brand CHUS X CHUS

at El Museo del Barrio, November 14 - 18, 2018

New York, NY, November 2, 2018 - With a professional career spanning over thirty years, in which he has collaborated with contemporary artists and leading names in both the design and fashion world, Spanish designer Chus Burés is partnering with El Museo del Barrio to commemorate NYC Jewelry Week 2018 and introduce his newly launched New York-based jewelry brand CHUS X CHUS.

With the mission to educate and promote jewelry as a vehicle and expression of artistic design, from November 14 to 18, the designer will host an installation at El Museo's La Tienda presenting a highly curated selection of artisanal jewelry works, and wearable artist's jewelry in collaboration with modern masters. Chus' ingenuity spans from collaborations with contemporary artists such as Louise Bourgeois, Carmen Herrera, Julio Le Parc, Miquel Barceló, and Tony Bechara to art directorial projects with fashion houses such as Loewe, Agnès b., Maurizio Galante, and Akris.

In addition, from November 14 to 18, 2018, 3-5pm daily, El Museo del Barrio welcomes visitors to meet the designer and learn about his inspiration and wearable works of art. All events will be held at La Tienda.

ABOUT CHUS BURES

Chus Burés' strong creative personality derives initially from time spent studying interior design at the Llotja School in Barcelona, which is where he hails from. However, from an early age he developed a passion for body language and the language of clothing which then paved the way to designing jewelry which has been his artistic forte ever since. For more than 30 years, Chus has designed fashion accessories and worked with photographers, film directors and visual artists from around the world. Jewels by Chus Burés have been admired and worn by eminent personalities from the world of art and culture, musicians, politicians and other celebrities --Paul Bowles, Robert Wilson, Dore Ashton, Zaha Hadid, Pierre Restany and Geraldine Chaplin, to name but a few -- and his designs form part of prominent public and private collections in Europe, the United States and Latin America. For more information, visit www.chusbures.com.
